ABOUT ME

I am Bikramjit Pakhira, a B.Tech Computer Science and Engineering student at B. P. Poddar Institute of Management & Technology, with a solid foundation in technology and programming. I have a strong interest in web development and a solid foundation in programming, specializing in technologies like HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Tailwind CSS, and React.js. I'm also learning graphic design and constantly exploring new tools and technologies to improve my skills. I'm passionate about creating clean, responsive, and user-focused websites, and I aim to grow as a developer by taking on real-world challenges and learning from every experience.
